AVA's Recommendation:

The cost of having a yacht delivered varies based on several factors including the yacht size, delivery distance, and method of transport. Professional yacht delivery services typically charge between $300 and $800 per day for captains, with additional costs for crew members. For longer deliveries requiring multiple crew members, the total daily rate increases as adequate watch must be maintained. Some companies charge by the mile (approximately $2.50 per nautical mile) instead of daily rates. For yacht transport via cargo ship, costs average between $20-$25 per nautical mile, with a typical Florida to Mediterranean transport (4,500 nm) costing $90,000-$112,500. The delivery method can significantly impact the total price, with yacht delivery services potentially ranging from $1,000 to $3,000 per day for larger vessels. Additional expenses may include fuel, insurance, permits, and customs fees.
